These include, but are not limited to, plagiarism, cheating, fabrication, aid of academic dishonesty, lying, bribery or threats, and stealing.

The University of West Georgia maintains and monitors a confidential Academic Dishonesty Tracking System. This database collects and reports patterns of repeated student violations across all the Colleges, the Ingram Library, and the School of Nursing. Each incidence of academic dishonesty is subject to review and consideration by the instructor, and is subject to a range of academic penalties including, but not limited to, failing the assignment and/or failing the course. Student conduct sanctions range from verbal warning to suspension or expulsion depending on the magnitude of the offense and/or number of offenses. The incident becomes part of the student's conduct record at UWG.

Additionally, the student is responsible for safeguarding his/her computer account. The student's account and network connection are for his/her individual use. A computer account is to be used only by the person to whom it has been issued. The student is responsible for all actions originating through his/her account or network connection. It is the student's responsibility to check his or her email.

Credit Hour Policy

The University of West Georgia grants one semester hour of credit for work equivalent to a minimum of one hour (50 minutes) of in-class or other direct faculty instruction AND two hours of student work outside of class per week for approximately fifteen weeks. For each course, the course syllabus will document the amount of in-class (or other direct faculty instruction) and out-of-class work required to earn the credit hour(s) assigned to the course. Out-of-class work will include all forms of credit-bearing activity, including but not limited to assignments, readings, observations, and musical practice. Where available, the university grants academic credit for students who verify via competency-based testing, that they have accomplished the learning outcomes associated with a course that would normally meet the requirements outlined above (e.g. AP credit, CLEP, and departmental exams).

Instructor Comments:

- ATTENDANCE: Class attendance is very importance for your understanding of the subject matter. Students will sign-in each class period. The instructor may elect to take absences into account when determining final grade assignments for those students with borderline grades.
- TIME COMMITMENT: This is a course that requires study time outside of class. Expect to spend at least three hours outside of class for each hour of class time. You should arrange your schedule to allow for the required time commitment.
- READING ASSIGNMENTS: Reading of the assigned chapters is extremely important for success in this course. Each chapter should be read at least twice. If you have never done this, you will be surprised at how much clearer concepts become with an additional reading (or readings). You also may wish to prepare an outline or make study notes during your second reading.
- ADDITIONAL HELP: You are urged to make use of my office hours. These hours are set aside for your benefit, and you are welcome to come in at any time during these posted hours. If you are unable to get to the office during posted hours, contact me for an appointment. I am here to help you achieve whatever goal you have set for yourself in this class. PLEASE take advantage of my office hours and/or send me emails anytime you have questions, concerns, or comments! I cannot help you if I do not know you have a problem.

- CLASS BEHAVIOR:
 1. The instructor retains the right to drop any student(s) for disruptive behavior---no warning given.
 2. You are expected to attend class and be on time. After three absences (3), your instructor may elect to drop you from the class. NOTE: Withdrawal from class is not automatic. A student who desire to withdraw is responsible for processing the withdrawal.
 3. You are expected to turn off your cell phones prior to entering the classroom.
 4. Use of a cell phone during an exam is prohibited and will be considered an act of academic dishonesty.
- ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: Academic dishonesty will result in dismissal from the class with a grade of “F.”
